

The JDF Footprints

By Exec. Dir. Carolyn D. Jenkins

October 2017

October is the most colorful month of the year! Driving through and under the gold, orange, yellow, burgandy, and brown foliage can truly be a breathtaking experience.

Yes, spring is lovely. After a long winter, it's always refreshing to see the green buds sprout and the first flower of the spring, the crocus, pop through the hardened soil. Yet the colorful fall foliage inspires the imagination as it ushers in the holiday season.

We know the cold winter months are on the way and we have one last hurrah to enjoy. It's a poignant reminder for all of us to appreciate the year we've had, and our harvest of blessings. Enjoy the colorful sights because they won't last long. Winter is on the way.

What has The JDF been up too? Boy, am I glad you asked that question. We've been squirreling away shoes, clothing and blankets so we can deliver them to those in need within the next few weeks. You would think that is all we're doing, but no, not us.

We're also preparing for our 1st Annual Fundraiser. We are hosting an online auction from November 24- December 12th!

Fill up your sleigh with the incredible gifts our generous donors have blessed us with. We have stocking stuffers like gift cards, ski tickets, museum & aquarium tickets, amusement park tickets including, Disney World tickets, autographed sports memorabilia, live theater tickets, vacation and sporting event packages and so much more. You can even get serenaded by world renowned Elvis Tribute Artist, Michael Hoover! You can get a sneak peek at most of the auction items, we're still getting them in, on Nov. 15th. Just click on the link below. Make sure you pick up a treat for yourself as well!
