Happy
Valentine's Day!

Superbowl 53 fans and Ray Charles are not the only ones who were happy to keep Georgia on their minds. The JDF team has begun spreading love and shoes in the Peach State and we're having a ball!

The October issue of The JDF Footprints newsletter introduced readers to our new Georgia Team Lead and Liaison, Jae. She, and one of our newest volunteers, Carrie, spent weeks collecting shoes from local businesses, co-workers and friends.

This 'dynamic duo' enlisted the services of Mr. Alphonso, at The Original Barbershop, and sorted through the shoes. They located a nonprofit in Atlanta that helps families in need. Jae and Carrie happily delivered the gently used and new shoes they had collected to the First Presbyterian Church of Atlanta (FPCA) Community Ministries. This busy ministry is committed to serving the homeless and people in transition, the same groups of people we serve!

We look forward to continuing to spread love and our outreach work in Georgia. Thank you for working so hard to help others Jae, Carrie and Mr. Alphonso!
